Club Development

The Past

Carrickfergus Cricket Club, established in 1868, was a founder member of the Northern Cricket Union and remains one of the oldest surviving clubs in Ireland. Despite this longevity and pedigree, the Club has had a difficult history having, unbelievably, led an almost nomadic existence for more than 100 years.

It was not until the mid-1980's that we began to fully realise the potential for the game of cricket in Carrickfergus by implementing a development plan which saw the opening of the ground and clubhouse at Middle Road in 1988.

With our own premises in a rapidly developing part of the town, the social membership of the Club expanded rapidly and, by 1993, we were in a position to add a two-storey extension with purpose-built changing facilities and an enlarged lounge bar with viewing balcony. Even a fire, which caused significant damage to the Club at the beginning of the 1998 season, did not stifle the dynamic spirit of development at the Club and fully refurbished premises were operational within a matter of weeks.

The Present

The Club's First XI is well established in Section Two of the Senior League and we are one of the few clubs in Ireland capable of fielding five Saturday teams.

The square at Middle Road is regarded as one of the best in local cricket and our facilities in general are the envy of any club in local cricket.

We have hosted inter-provincial youth matches and each June we stage the prestigious Graham Cup Final for Under 15 boys' teams. This year we have been honoured with the opportunity of hosting one of the fixtures from the upcoming European Cricket Championships.

With a highly respected reputation within Northern Irish Cricket, enviable facilities and sound finances, we might be excused for relaxing our efforts.

The development, however, continues. We have recently completed further, major drainage works to the outfield, our current ground extension is well advanced and newly-installed, purpose-built outdoor practice facilities were used for the first time last season.

The Future

We have a clearly defined strategy in place for further development which, when fully implemented, will put Carrickfergus Cricket Club at the very vanguard of cricket development in Ireland.

Our priority is, as it always has been, the promotion and development of the game of cricket, particularly at youth level, and it is our ambition to establish our Club as a centre of cricket excellence within East Antrim.

We have an active strategy which will see a second ground established at our Middle Road site. We have commissioned architectural plans for a further extension to the existing clubhouse. The entire ground floor will be devoted to playing facilities with a changing area adequate for a two-ground complex and, perhaps more excitingly, indoor nets within a multi-purpose sports hall, allowing for year-round practice and training.

Throughout our development at Middle Road, we have never lost sight of the importance of our social membership both as a means of building our sense of community and as a major source of income to help drive our ambitious objectives for the sport of cricket. Carrickfergus Cricket Club is a mutual business as well as a cricket-playing organisation. Both aspects of the club are now inseparable and dependent upon each other. Our development strategy reflects this relationship with our current plans including an extended lounge bar, function room and viewing facilities both internal and external.

Our Offer

Partnership

Our vision is ambitious but we believe achievable. To help us reach our goal we are seeking partners, not only to provide a revenue stream, but also to reflect favourably upon us and thereby enhance our image as a serious commercial and sporting entity.

We believe that your business can deliver on both counts. But what will you receive in return...?

We are not seeking a financial handout for negligible return. Nor do we use the word 'partnership' lightly. We intend to work proactively with sponsors so that we can meet their needs in every way possible to cultivate a productive, long-term relationship, which will be of benefit to both organisations.

We can offer a very strong proposition for any business wishing to improve visibility and enhance their reputation within the communities of East Antrim:

- We have cultivated an impeccable reputation and strong ties within the local community over a great many years.
- We have a thriving playing membership- we are one of the few clubs in Ireland capable of fielding five regular Saturday teams.
- Our social membership continues to flourish and has been in and around our legal maximum for several years.
- The demographic profile of the club is very attractive, particularly since our social membership is derived mainly from the private housing developments adjacent to the club.
- The demographic profile of those involved in cricket more generally is commonly regarded to be attractive to potential sponsors.
- We have a strong relationship with the local press and, since we provide the copy for match reports, we can ensure our sponsors gain quality exposure.
- The Club's weekly lottery has a regular participant base of over 500 but it has, on occasion reached 3,500.
- Our recently established website has proven to be a rapid success with more than 1,000 unique visitors in the first two months of operation, delivering more than 10,000 pages of content. It has been described as "quite superb and easily the best club site in Ireland" by John Elder, administrator of the official Irish Cricket Union and CricketIreland sites.
- We have strong and positive relationships with local primary and secondary schools built through many years of making our professional coaches available.
- The Club is becoming increasingly well respected within the Northern Cricket Union, developing a reputation for innovation, and we have been successful hosts of representative cricket on many occasions.
- We are a flexible club, always striving to improve our procedures and we are open to your input and creative ideas about how we can better meet your expectations and serve your promotional requirements.

Sponsorship Vehicle

Carrickfergus Cricket Club has a proven track record of dynamic development and the rapid expansion in the last decade or so demonstrates our ability to set targets and achieve goals. Given our current ambitions, we feel that we present enormous potential as a sponsorship vehicle to provide extensive and positive exposure to any business with the vision to enter into a partnership with us.
